March 26, 2015

The Honorable Sylvia Mathews Burwell
Secretary
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
200 Independence Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20201

Dear Madam Secretary:

The Committee is conducting oversight of the assessment and use of fines and penalties by Executive Branch agencies, including the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (the Agency). The Committee accordingly seeks information about monies received through these methods of collection, the statutory authority under which the Agency operates in assessing fines and penalties, and how the Agency uses the fines and penalties upon receipt.

The Government Accountability Office (GAO) recently released a report examining the Department of Justice's (DOJ) use of fines and penalties, as well as administrative fees. GAO found that seven alternative sources of funding from sources such as fines, fees, and penalties made up approximately 15 percent of DOJ's total budgetary resources in Fiscal Year 2013.[1] Some of this funding is not necessarily reviewed as part of the appropriations process, and as a result, "may not be subject to the same scrutiny" as other programs.[2] DOJ's use of funds collected as fines and penalties has also drawn interest from other congressional committees.[3]

To assist the Committee, please provide the following documents and information as soon as possible, but no later than April 9, 2015:

1. A list of all fines or penalties that may be assessed by the Agency. For each fine or penalty, identify:

---

[1] Gov't Accountability Office, Alternative Sources of Funding Are a Key Source of Budgetary Resources and Could be Better Managed, GAO-15-48 (Mar.. 2015) (GAO Highlights Section).
[2] Id. at 2.
[3] Consumers Shortchanged? Oversight of the Justice Department's Mortgage Lending Settlements: Hearing before the H. Comm. on the Judiciary, 114th Cong. (Feb. 12, 2014) (examining DOJ's disbursement of fines obtained in settlements with financial institutions related to mortgage lending).

a. the Agency component responsible for assessing the fine or penalty;

b. the regulatory and statutory authority under which the fine or penalty may be assessed;

c. the regulatory and statutory authority under which funds may be retained or spent after collection, including any constraints on such spending;

d. all non-Agency recipients of funds collected from the fine or penalty, including the amount provided to each recipient, since January 1, 2010; and,

e. whether the fine or penalty is civil or criminal in nature.

2. All guidance referring or relating to assessment of fines or penalties.

3. All guidance referring or relating to retention or expenditure of funds collected from the fines or penalties.

4. A list of all instances since January 1, 2010, where a fine or penalty was waived or otherwise disposed of as part of a settlement with the Agency and/or the Department of Justice.

5. For each Agency component, the total amount of funds collected through the assessment of fines and penalties since January 1, 2010.

6. A breakdown of the total amount of funds collected through the assessment of fines and penalties by the applicable statute or regulation that was implicated, since January 1, 2010.

For purposes of this request, please exclude routine business-like transactions involving administrative fees or collections that may be assessed on a "per-transaction" basis.

In addition, please provide a briefing to Committee staff on this matter as soon as possible, but not later than April 9, 2015.

When producing documents to the Committee, please deliver production sets to the Majority staff in Room 2157 of the Rayburn House Office Building and the Minority staff in Room 2471 of the Rayburn House Office Building. The Committee prefers, if possible, to receive all documents in electronic format. An attachment to this letter provides additional information about responding to the Committee's request.

The Committee on Oversight and Government Reform is the principal investigative committee in the U.S. House of Representatives. Pursuant to House Rule X, the Committee has authority to investigate "any matter" at "any time."

Requested records, documents, data or information should not be destroyed, modified, removed, transferred or otherwise made inaccessible to the Committee.

8. When you produce documents, you should identify the paragraph in the Committee's schedule to which the documents respond.

9. It shall not be a basis for refusal to produce documents that any other person or entity also possesses non-identical or identical copies of the same documents.

10. If any of the requested information is only reasonably available in machine-readable form (such as on a computer server, hard drive, or computer backup tape), you should consult with the Committee staff to determine the appropriate format in which to produce the information.

11. If compliance with the request cannot be made in full by the specified return date, compliance shall be made to the extent possible by that date. An explanation of why full compliance is not possible shall be provided along with any partial production.

12. In the event that a document is withheld on the basis of privilege, provide a privilege log containing the following information concerning any such document: (a) the privilege asserted; (b) the type of document; (c) the general subject matter; (d) the date, author and addressee; and (e) the relationship of the author and addressee to each other.

13. If any document responsive to this request was, but no longer is, in your possession, custody, or control, identify the document (stating its date, author, subject and recipients) and explain the circumstances under which the document ceased to be in your possession, custody, or control.

14. If a date or other descriptive detail set forth in this request referring to a document is inaccurate, but the actual date or other descriptive detail is known to you or is otherwise apparent from the context of the request, you are required to produce all documents which would be responsive as if the date or other descriptive detail were correct.

15. Unless otherwise specified, the time period covered by this request is from January 1, 2009 to the present.

16. This request is continuing in nature and applies to any newly-discovered information. Any record, document, compilation of data or information, not produced because it has not been located or discovered by the return date, shall be produced immediately upon subsequent location or discovery.

17. All documents shall be Bates-stamped sequentially and produced sequentially.

When documents are produced to the Committee, production sets shall be delivered to the Majority Staff in Room 2157 of the Rayburn House Office Building and the Minority Staff in Room 2471 of the Rayburn House Office Building.

19. Upon completion of the document production, you should submit a written certification, signed by you or your counsel, stating that: (1) a diligent search has been completed of all documents in your possession, custody, or control which reasonably could contain responsive documents; and (2) all documents located during the search that are responsive have been produced to the Committee.
