Mr. Jeff Simmons
President and Chief Executive Officer
Elanco Animal Health Inc.
2500 Innovation Way
Greenfield, IN 46140

Dear Mr. Simmons:

The Subcommittee on Economic and Consumer Policy calls on Elanco Animal Health—which recently acquired Bayer Animal Health—to immediately institute a temporary recall of all Seresto flea and tick collars, following reports that the collars may have killed thousands of pets and may have caused injuries to many more pets as well as humans. The Subcommittee also seeks documents and information from Elanco regarding Seresto collars and associated risks.

Recently disclosed documents from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) reveal that Seresto flea and tick collars were associated with almost 1,700 pet deaths, over 75,000 incidents involving harm to pets, and nearly 1,000 incidents involving human harm.¹ We believe that the actual number of deaths and injuries is much greater, since the average consumer would not know to report pet harm to EPA, an agency seemingly unrelated to consumer pet products. EPA receives complaints because the active ingredients in Seresto collars are pesticides.

The packaging for Seresto collars contains no disclaimer warning that the risks of toxicity may be so great that they could possibly be responsible for thousands of pet deaths:

The Seresto collar is the only flea and tick collar that combines a cocktail of two pesticides: imidacloprid and flumethrin. Reportedly, a 2012 Bayer study found that combining the two pesticides makes them more toxic against fleas.²

Apparently, they may be more toxic to pets and humans as well. In addition to being linked to 1,700 pet deaths, a Seresto collar caused one twelve-year-old boy, who slept in bed with a dog wearing the collar, to be hospitalized due to seizures and vomiting.³

To assist the Subcommittee in its oversight of this matter, please provide the following documents and information by March 31, 2021:

1. A written description of all steps, taken and planned, to effectuate a voluntary recall of Seresto flea and tick collars and to issue full consumer refunds;
2. All consumer complaints and administrative or legal actions regarding Seresto flea and tick collars involving harm to pets and/or humans, and all documents and communications related thereto;
3. All communications with the federal government regarding or relating to Seresto flea and tick collars and the effect on pet and/or human health;
4. All internal documents, including communications, meeting minutes, and reports, referring or relating to toxicity or risks of death and injury to pets or humans from Seresto flea and tick collars;
5. All communications between Bayer and Elanco during Elanco's acquisition of Bayer Animal Health regarding toxicity or risks of death and injury to pets or humans from Seresto flea and tick collars and the transfer of liabilities related thereto; and
6. The number of Seresto flea and tick collars sold in the United States, and the total sales volume.

The Committee on Oversight and Reform is the principal oversight committee of the House of Representatives and has broad authority to investigate "any matter" at "any time" under House Rule X. An attachment to this letter provides additional instructions for responding to the Committee's request. If you have any questions regarding this request, please contact Subcommittee staff at (202) 225-5051.
