April 24, 2015

The Honorable Jonathan B. Jarvis
Director
National Park Service
1849 C Street NW
Washington, D.C. 20240

Dear Mr. Jarvis:

This past Monday afternoon, a number of individuals gathered on the National Mall to collectively smoke marijuana ostensibly to protest congressional involvement in the District of Columbia's marijuana policies (the "April 20, 2015 Event").¹ The event was well documented in multiple news stories, as well as through pictures and videos that clearly show individuals possessing and using marijuana on federal property.

Yet, according to one report, "[d]espite the conspicuously illegal acts, no one was arrested or reprimanded by U.S. Park Police."² Thus far, we are unaware that any of these individuals faced legal consequences for engaging in illegal activity. In fact, it is our understanding the individuals who gathered on the National Mall filed for, and were granted, a permit by the National Park Service for this gathering. Given the prior knowledge of this event and the possible violation of federal law, the lack of action taken by the Park Police is deeply concerning.

Possession and use of marijuana is a federal crime. Thus, federal law enforcement personnel have a clear obligation to enforce the law regarding marijuana possession and use.³

In addition to violating federal law, the actions of these individuals also violated the District of Columbia's own laws. The District passed emergency legislation in March stating that the "consumption of marijuana in public spaces, including one where the public is invited, remains subject to criminal penalties."⁴

The United States Park Police's failure to enforce the law in this incident is a significant misstep and one that was easily avoidable. The Park Police's inaction is setting a precedent that federal laws will be selectively enforced on federal land in the District of Columbia.

In light of these concerns, the Committee requests the following by May 7, 2015:

¹ Washington Post, "D.C. Residents and Activists Light up on the National Mall for 4/20." April 20, 2015.

² Id.

³ 21 U.S.C. §844

⁴ "Marijuana Decriminalization Clarification Emergency Declaration Resolution of 2015." Resolution R21-0048. March 3, 2015.

The Honorable Jonathan B. Jarvis

11. If compliance with the request cannot be made in full by the specified return date, compliance shall be made to the extent possible by that date. An explanation of why full compliance is not possible shall be provided along with any partial production.

19. Upon completion of the document production, you should submit a written certification, signed by you or your counsel, stating that: (1) a diligent search has been completed of all documents in your possession, custody, or control which reasonably could contain responsive documents; and (2) all documents located during the search that are responsive have been produced to the Committee.
