Mr. Lawson Bader
President
Competitive Enterprise Institute
1899 L Street, NW, 12th Floor
Washington, DC 20036

Dear Mr. Bader:

The Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) brings needed transparency to government operations, and enables the public to hold its government accountable. However, this tool is only effective if the government meets its statutory responsibility to provide timely responses to information requests. Unfortunately, in Fiscal Year 2014, the Administration set a new record for denying access to records requested under FOIA.¹ According to the Department of Justice's Office of Information Policy, agencies processed fewer requests, invoked exemptions more often, spent more federal dollars on FOIA processing and litigation, and experienced an increase in the backlog of FOIA requests of 55 percent.²

The Committee is aware that executive branch agencies use several tactics to deny or delay responses to FOIA requests and FOIA reform is necessary. Agencies sometimes slow-roll responses,³ create unreasonable requirements for specificity, provide unreasonable fee estimates,⁴ and excessively redact information.⁵ In some instances, agencies have not responded to requests that simply ask for information about the agencies' own FOIA processes.⁶

The Committee is collecting data to help us understand the extent to which federal agencies are failing to adequately implement government transparency laws. To assist the Committee, we would appreciate your help in identifying specific examples of obstacles you have faced obtaining the records you requested. Please send us documentation on your FOIA requests and the responses from agencies which you believe demonstrate failures in the FOIA process, such as:

1. Excessive or inappropriate redactions;
2. Lengthy delays;
3. Administrative closures (closures made by an agency without requester consent);
4. Requests to narrow or otherwise limit the scope of the request;
5. Delayed appeals or refusals to mediate;
6. Unreasonable denial of fee waivers; and,
7. Any other barrier to accessing disclosable agency records.

Please include the FOIA case number, if one was assigned, and all associated correspondence to or from the agency.

Participation in the Committee's effort to collect data on FOIA requests is entirely voluntary. Any documents or information you choose to share with the Committee will be used for oversight of federal agencies' compliance with FOIA laws. To best assist the Committee, please provide any responsive documents you are willing to share as soon as possible, but no later than 5:00 p.m. May 19, 2015.

When producing documents to the Committee, please deliver production sets to the Majority staff in Room 2157 of the Rayburn House Office building and to the Minority staff in Room 2471 of the Rayburn House Office Building. The Committee prefers, if possible to receive all documents in electronic format. You may submit a response by email to foia@mail.house.gov.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Please contact Katy Rother of the Majority staff at (202) 225-5074 with any questions about this request.

Sincerely,

Jason Chaffetz
Chairman

14. If a date or other descriptive detail set forth in this request referring to a document is inaccurate, but the actual date or other descriptive detail is known to you or is otherwise apparent from the context of the request, you are required to produce all documents which would be responsive as if the date or other descriptive detail were correct.

19. Upon completion of the document production, you should submit a written certification, signed by you or your counsel, stating that: (1) a diligent search has been completed of all documents in your possession, custody, or control which reasonably could contain responsive documents; and (2) all documents located during the search that are responsive have been produced to the Committee.
