July 29, 2015

The Honorable Loretta E. Lynch
Attorney General
U.S. Department of Justice
950 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C. 20530

Dear Madam Attorney General:

The Fourth Amendment's protection against unreasonable government searches is a cornerstone of our democracy. In recent decisions, the Supreme Court has clarified that the warrant requirement of the Fourth Amendment applies to searches using electronic devices, as well as searches of information stored electronically.

In 2012, the Court unanimously ruled that the government's installation of a GPS device on a vehicle, and its use of that device to monitor the vehicle's movements, constitutes a search under the Fourth Amendment.[1] As such, law enforcement generally must obtain a warrant before placing a GPS device on a person's private property.[2] More recently, the Court unanimously decided "officers must generally secure a warrant before conducting" a search of "data on cell phones," even when the search is conducted incident to a lawful arrest.[3]

In the wake of these decisions, we understand the Department of Justice released updated guidance to federal prosecutors and investigators.

The Committee seeks to better understand the Department's policies related to geolocation in the wake of the Supreme Court's recent decisions. To assist the Committee please provide as soon as possible, but by no later than 5:00 p.m. on August 7, 2015, any agency memorandum regarding geolocation, including any memorandum created in response to the Supreme Court decisions in United States v. Jones and Riley v. California.

Please also provide a briefing to Committee staff no later than August 7, 2015. Specifically, please be prepared to discuss the Department's position on whether geolocation of cellular phone users constitutes content or metadata and the Department's position on whether a warrant is required to collect real-time geolocation information.

[2] Id. at 949.
[3] Riley v. California, 134 S. Ct. 2473, 2485 (2014).

The Committee on Oversight and Government Reform is the principal oversight committee of the House of Representatives and may at "any time" investigate "any matter" as set forth in House Rule X.

When producing documents to the Committee, please deliver production sets to the Majority staff in Room 2157 of the Rayburn House Office Building and the Minority staff in Room 2471 of the Rayburn House Office Building. The Committee prefers, if possible, to receive all documents in electronic format. An attachment to this letter provides additional information about responding to the Committee's request.

Please contact Troy Stock, Cordell Hull, or Sean Brebbia of the Majority staff at (202) 225-5074 with any questions about this request or Brian Quinn of the Minority staff at (202) 225-5051. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Jason Chaffetz
Chairman

9. It shall not be a basis for refusal to produce documents that any other person or entity also possesses non-identical or identical copies of the same documents.

10. If any of the requested information is only reasonably available in machine-readable form (such as on a computer server, hard drive, or computer backup tape), you should consult with the Committee staff to determine the appropriate format in which to produce the information.

11. If compliance with the request cannot be made in full by the specified return date, compliance shall be made to the extent possible by that date. An explanation of why full compliance is not possible shall be provided along with any partial production.

12. In the event that a document is withheld on the basis of privilege, provide a privilege log containing the following information concerning any such document: (a) the privilege asserted; (b) the type of document; (c) the general subject matter; (d) the date, author and addressee; and (e) the relationship of the author and addressee to each other.

13. If any document responsive to this request was, but no longer is, in your possession, custody, or control, identify the document (stating its date, author, subject and recipients) and explain the circumstances under which the document ceased to be in your possession, custody, or control.

14. If a date or other descriptive detail set forth in this request referring to a document is inaccurate, but the actual date or other descriptive detail is known to you or is otherwise apparent from the context of the request, you are required to produce all documents which would be responsive as if the date or other descriptive detail were correct.

15. Unless otherwise specified, the time period covered by this request is from January 1, 2009 to the present.

16. This request is continuing in nature and applies to any newly-discovered information. Any record, document, compilation of data or information, not produced because it has not been located or discovered by the return date, shall be produced immediately upon subsequent location or discovery.

19. Upon completion of the document production, you should submit a written certification, signed by you or your counsel, stating that: (1) a diligent search has been completed of all documents in your possession, custody, or control which reasonably could contain responsive documents; and (2) all documents located during the search that are responsive have been produced to the Committee.
