The Honorable Joe Ritch
Chair
Board of Directors
Tennessee Valley Authority
400 West Summit Hill Drive
Knoxville, TN 37914

Dear Mr. Ritch:

Over the past year, there have been a number of media reports detailing instances of lost or stolen firearms at various federal agencies.¹ The loss or theft of a federal firearm causes obvious safety and security risks. In fact, in a number of cases, firearms that were lost or stolen from a federal agency were subsequently used in connection with the deaths of innocent civilians.²

Several agency inspectors general have reviewed issues related to lax firearm inventory controls, and they identified inventory control problems as a contributing factor driving the high volume of lost or stolen firearms throughout the federal government. The Committee's investigation of the federal government's management of its inventory of firearms has identified similar concerns. Most recently, the Committee held a hearing on the General Services Administration's administration of the Surplus Firearm Donation Program. According to the most recent Bureau of Justice Statistics census of federal law enforcement officers, there were 120,000 full-time officers authorized to carry firearms, 145 of whom are with the Tennessee Valley Authority.³

In order to help the Committee understand how your agency manages its inventory of firearms, please provide the following documents as soon as possible, but no later than 5:00 p.m. on April 6, 2016:

¹ See, e.g. Dan Simon, et. al., Gun in San Francisco Killing Stolen From Federal Agent's Vehicle, Source Says, CNN, July 8, 2015; Sergio Quintana, Search is on After Federal Agent Loses Gun in San Francisco, ABC7NEWS, Feb. 19, 2016; Adam Shaw, Hundreds of DHS Badges, Guns, Cell Phones lost or stolen since 2012, FOX NEWS, Feb. 1, 2016.

8. Documents sufficient to show the number, type, and location of firearms seized or confiscated by the agency, including, but not limited to, the reason(s) for seizing or confiscating the firearm, the location where the firearm was seized or confiscated, and if such firearms were authorized for use by agency personnel;
9. All documents referring or relating to inventory accounting and control procedures for seized or confiscated firearms, including, but not limited to, procedures for retention of seized or confiscated firearms, destruction of seized firearms, and for reporting lost, stolen or missing seized or confiscated firearms;
10. For each firearm that was lost, stolen, or missing, since January 1, 2005, all documents and communications referring or relating to reporting such firearm to the National Criminal Information Center (NCIC). If any such firearm was not reported to the NCIC, provide an explanation that covers why the agency is not required to report to the NCIC and what practices it follows in lieu of reporting to the NCIC;

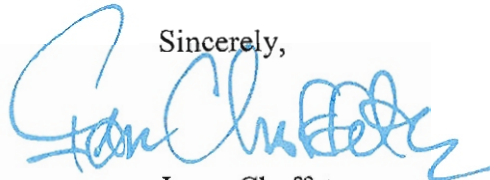

11. Documents sufficient to show how often the agency conducts firearms inventory reviews, including but not limited to, when the agency last conducted a comprehensive inventory review;
12. Documents sufficient to show the type, nature, and extent of disciplinary action taken by the agency for personnel failing to report lost, missing, or stolen firearms; and
