The Honorable Heather A. Wilson
Secretary of the Air Force
United States Air Force
1670 Air Force Pentagon
Washington, D.C. 20330-1670

Dear Madam Secretary:

A recent news account reported the potential that a major Foreign Military Sales (FMS) contract was negotiated between the United States and Kenya for the sale of 12 weaponized border planes.¹ The U.S. Air Force selected New York-based L-3 Technologies for the proposed contract at a cost of $418 million.² The Committee is interested in learning more about the decision to award this contract despite evidence that L-3 has no weaponized border patrol aircraft in service and has limited past performance in manufacturing aircraft of this type.

The Committee has questions about statements made by the U.S. Air Force regarding FAA certification requirements for Foreign Military Sales.³ A Congressional Research Service (CRS) memorandum, dated March 31, 2017, has since identified that statement as false.⁴ Furthermore, CRS found that the “FAA has no jurisdiction over the development and maintenance of military aircraft” and noted that “when the U.S. Air Force, on behalf of a foreign government, acquires [Commercial Derivative Aircraft] CDA it does not operate exclusively for an [sic] FMS case, no U.S. certification is required.”⁵ If this is the case, then it appears that the U.S. Air Force selected an airframe on a basis inconsistent with established protocol.

Given the national security implications of such a FMS sale, we would like to learn more about the U.S. Air Force’s pattern of acquisition with regard to weaponized border patrol planes. Please furnish the following documents as soon as possible, but no later than noon on June 2, 2017:
